DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

2. Claims 2-4 and 7 are finally rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the enablement requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention.

The claims are drawn to "a socket wrench extension" for engagement with a socket and a socket wrench. Independent claims 1 and 7 have been amended to include "a socket" as part of the extension, however the original specification, drawings and claims make no mention of any extension that includes a socket that is used "for engagement with a socket and a socket wrench" as an extension that includes a socket as an integral part thereof cannot then engage another socket.

3. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

4. Claims 2-7 are finally rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

It is unclear as to how a socket extension, as is claimed in claims 2-4 and 7, can include a socket as an integral part thereof and also engage another socket, thus these claims are ambiguous and indefinite.

There is no antecedent basis for "said square hole" in claim 5 and "said cavity walls" in claim 6.

5. Normally a claim which fails to comply with the first and/or second paragraph of § 112 will not be analyzed as to whether it is patentable over the prior art since to do so would of necessity require speculation with regard to the metes and bounds of the claimed subject matter, In re Steele, 308 F.2d 859, 862-63, 134 USPQ 292, (CCPA 1962) and In re Wilson, 424 F.2d 1382, 1385, 496 USPQ 494, 496 (CCPA 1970). Therefore claims 2-4 and 7 are so ambiguous as to preclude a rejection on prior art.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

6. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

7. Claims 5 and 6 are finally rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over the prior art of figure 6 and Hanson.

Figure 6 shows the claimed invention except for the use of a shoulder to function as a high torque application member. Hanson suggests that an extension can have such a shoulder used for the same purpose as that claimed by applicant. It would therefore be obvious to one skilled in the art at the time the invention was made to modify figure 6 by using a shoulder to provide for high torque application because Hanson suggests the use of such a shoulder.

Conversely it would be obvious to modify Hanson by using concave sections in the socket to engage a ball detent in the extension as such is clearly suggested to be well known by the prior art of figure 6.

Response to Arguments

8. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 2-4 and 7 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

As clearly seen in figure 6 of the application, reproduced below, the drive column is aligned with the axis of the socket, as in applicant's figure 3 which also has no portion of the drive column in any recess of the sidewall, however when the extension is tilted, as is the standard procedure in using the prior art of figure 6 and of Hanson, then a portion of the column will be received in a recess opposite to the one that receives the detent, thus the prior art of figure 6, will clearly function as now claimed.

With respect to the newly amended claims 2 and 7, the addition of the socket as part of the extension is not enabled by the originally filed application as these claims clearly require that the extension be used to engage a socket and not to include a socket, thus there can be no application of prior art due to the ambiguity of these claims.

Conclusion

9. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

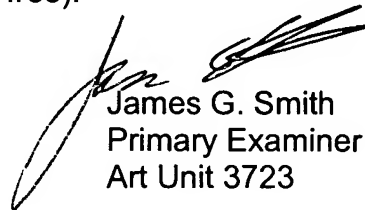

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
